

A School for Bears...

Grizzly bears are known for being large and very ferocious. They can be up to 7 feet tall and weigh more than 500 pounds. But when grizzly cubs are born, they are very small and helpless. A newborn cub is blind and has no teeth and no fur. It is only eight inches long and weighs just over a pound. It's about the size of a big banana! The cubs grow fast. By the time they are a few months old, its mother is already teaching it many things. She shows her cubs how to find berries, roots, and nuts. She also teaches the cubs how to catch fish. Grizzlies like to stand beside a stream and scoop salmon out of the water with their big paws. The little cubs must practice many times before they catch their first fish. The mother teaches them to hunt, fish and to protect themselves from danger. They learn new things every day.

Just like bear cubs, people need to learn many things too. Our parents and teachers help us learn to read, to ride a bike, to tie our shoes, to play an instrument, to pray, to understand about God and His word the Bible. Learning is fun and exciting and helps everyone to grow.

How about you? Do you want to go to a grizzly bear school today?

Why do you think God wanted people to learn about him?

What is something that you have learned how to do?

What do you think the cubs in the picture are learning how to do?

What does God say?

Let me teach you, because I am humble and gentle, and you will find rest for your souls. Matthew 11:29
