

Things are not always as they appear

This is my e-votional brought to you by a lovely dessert from thepioneerwoman.com

Look at this picture:

Is this not the most beautiful plant you have ever seen? Well guess what is really in it.....

Now you are hungry right? Well this will put you in your place- a huge dead worm is in the middle of it-

Got you again. Actually they are just gummy worms. Now on a hot summer day like today- are you not just wanting a huge bowl of chocolate ice cream like this? I am!!

Let's get back to today's E-votional. We think we have life figured out- but life is not always as it appears to OUR EYES.

One glance, one quick look. We have it all sealed in a bag. But guess what- we don't. We don't know our future. He does. We don't really know how people think of us. He does.

Looking on the outside and judging is deceiving.

Looking on the inside like HE does is the answer.

So today maybe you are lost, you don't have direction- don't sum it up by looking at the outside of your flower pot. He knows the path, the ingredients of your life that you need. He will introduce each one to you as you need it.

Maybe you feel like others are judging you, that you are not as "cool" as the other kids on the bus. Who are we kidding- we are not kids- and the bus we ride is defiantly not yellow. It doesn't matter what people think of us.

Your family loves you. God loves you. And you ARE going places. Things are not always as they appear.

Now look at this really cool picture:

If you look at it on the left- it is a heap of household trash. If you look at it on the right- it is a shadow of two men. Now what makes the difference in what is seen? The light. You are looking at your life without letting HIS LIGHT Shine through it- when actually you are a masterpiece. One last picture:

You can look at this and see a huge heaping pile of forks, knives and spoons- or a motorcycle. It changes because of the light. Walk in him today. YOU are more than a conqueror!! I would ride on the bus with you any day!
